

Expertise with Local Roots and National ReachGreetings!*Welcome Back

It's a different world since our last News Line.

In the beginning of March I attended the Sage X3 Partner Summit in Orlando.

It was deemed a 'no handshake' event. 'Social distancing' and 'flattening the curve' were unknown concepts. Plane flights were full with one or two people wearing masks.

It seems like that was years ago. Since then every business has changed, every life is different, but we will continue on stronger and wiser (and sadder for those that we have lost) for the experience.

For the past couple of months I have posted a different song on Facebook to provide a little relief. If you like, please you take a few minutes and listen to one of my selections.

Sincerely,

We realize that reviewing your ERP software right now is probably not the first priority at your company. But as we start to emerge from these difficult times, it should be evident that now more than ever it's imperative that you make sure that your company's operation and information infrastructure is as efficient as possible. You also need to do what you can now to minimize future disruptions.

Six years ago Sage Software retired Sage Pro ERP and Sage PFW. Prior to their retirement, Sage and WAC worked together to conduct the Omega Tour, and in the course of three weeks we traveled to 12 cities to meet with customers to review the options available going forward.

Now, six years later we are again reaching out to all CURRENT and FORMER users of Sage Pro, Sage VisionPoint, SBT and Sage PFW (as well as users of Sage 50, Peachtree, DacEasy, Business Works, Business Vision and Sage 500) to work with them to make sure that their systems are meeting their current and future requirements.

NOW IS THE TIME to consider the value of a modern cloud or cloud connected solution designed to minimize that disruption.
